DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "there is an angle of 2° and 5° between the outer wall and the reservoir." What is the value of the angle, 2° or 5°?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mart (2,493,633). Mart discloses the limitations of the claims including a drinking vessel (figs. 1-4) comprising a reservoir (10), mouth (18), outer wall (16), footprint (20), opposing frusto-cones (fig. 1), molded (col. 1, line 41), the ratio to the area of the mouth and base is about 3:4.

Regarding the angles with the horizontal, Mart excludes what would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention, constructing the base such that a vertical line lies within the base footprint when the vessel is at a 40°, 45° or 50° to the horizontal. It should be noted that this is achieved by varying the diameter of the footprint. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have modified Mart with the aforementioned structural feature in order to provide varying degrees of stability. Moreover, a change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results. In re Dailey et al., 149 USPQ 47.

Regarding the two bases being flush, Mart excludes what would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention, a have a lower edge of the reservoir being flush with the lower edge of the outer wall thereby providing an increased volume capacity. Moreover, a change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results. In re Dailey et al., 149 USPQ 47.

5. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as described in par. 4 in view of Feltman (D290,568). The references as describe in par. 4 excludes what Feltman teaches, a handle for thereby facilitating a gripping structure. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have modified the references as described in par. 4 with a handle in order facilitate easy gripping and handling of the vessel.

Conclusion

6. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
